CHALLENGE

Energizing a Global Brand: TotalEnergies' Journey to Sustainability

TotalEnergies, a global energy leader with a rich history in traditional energy sources, needed to redefine its brand image. Their focus on sustainability and inclusivity wasn't resonating with audiences, who still perceived them primarily as a fuel-based company. This limited the potential of new brand extensions and services.

Key Results:

45%

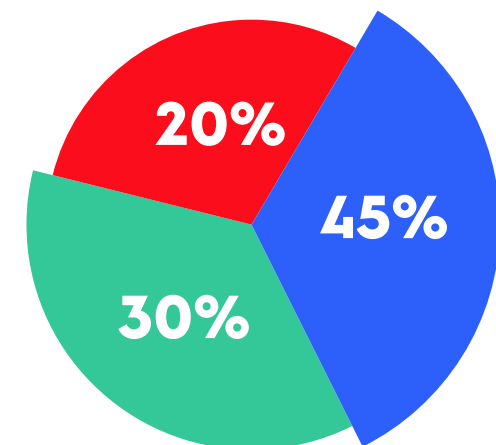

45% increase in brand awareness for sustainable energy offerings.

20%

20% increase in brand engagements.

30%

30% shift in customer perception towards TotalEnergies as a diverse energy provider
